FALL GAME APPEARS ON D. C. MARKET STANDS

Turkeys Offered on Poultry Benches in Increasing Quantities at 25 Cents a Pound.

Vegetable Market Still Supplied With Summer Products at Slightly Advanced Prices.

Rabbits, squirrels, ducks and birds have made their appearance in the markets of the city, and while rabbits and ducks are plentiful, squirrels and many varieties of birds are scarce. Ortolan are, however, to be had in good quantities at $1.50 a dozen. The game season opened November 1 and the dealers say the quality of the rabbits being received is exceptionally fine and they which was practically non-existent as by the President, it is understood, alfar as the markets were concerned for though it has been taken for granted fully thirty years, and which recently for some years that Mr. Wilson would reappeared out in the Atlantic off the never follow the custom of other Presi-northern coast, is on sale in the market dents. The first year after Mr. Wil-here and is achieving popularity. Aclargely advertised by the Department Washington. The second New Year of Commerce, which is responsible for followed the death of Mrs. Wilson and its rediscovery and for its being the matter of the reception was not brought into the market. It is one of considered. It is now assumed that the each, but is sold in smaller quantities, 1, 1916, rolls around.

The vegetable and fruit market is still supplied with summer time vegetables and fruits, though the dealers say corn and plums have disappeared from the benches in the past week. Egg plants have advanced in price and lima beans are also higher as the season comes to a close. Mushrooms, which have been selling at 75 cents a pound, were this morning quoted at 60 cents a pound. Turkeys are appearing quantities and are quoted at fonce to 25 cents a pound. Turkeys are appearing quantities and are quoted at fonce to 25 cents a pound. Dealers when asked for an opinion as to the Thanksgiving supply of turkeys might occur to change market conditions between this and Thanksgiving day. Reports coming from the country, however, state the supply of turkeys is fairly good and there should be no shortage Thanksgiving if the weather at that time is favorable. In the meat market bacon, mutton and smoked ham and shoulder are lower in price and no advance in prices on any meat is to be noted. Eggs, poultry and butter show no change in prices from those of last week.
